

SOLDIERS COVER CITY AT NIGHT

Perfect Peace in El Paso and Juarez During Thursday Evening—Battery of Artillery on Heights Above El Paso and Troops Camp in the City—Military Headquarters at City Hall.

W HILE warships were plying two oceans and troops were loading for the move against Veracruz, the rebel garrison at Juarez and the American troops in El Paso spent a peaceful, though watchful night within a stone's throw of each other.

An early American visitor to the other side of the river today remarked to a Mexican friend, "Well, we slept on our arms last night; how did you get along over here?"

"Oh, we slept on our pillows," was the response and both laughed. The night was devoid of incident, but many men remained late down town Thursday night and the lights burned rather late in most homes.

Soldiers on Guard.

El Paso was an armed camp largely for the reassuring effect of the troops on the more nervous citizens. Cannon were posted on the highlands of the city at the water reservoir—four three-inch guns—two battalions of infantry with a machine gun platoon, and two squadrons of cavalry kept watch and ward over the slumbers of the city.

Most of the infantry camped in the

NEW LIFE

Found in Change to Right Food.

After one suffers for months from acid dyspepsia, sour stomach, and then finds the remedy is in getting the right kind of food, it is something to speak about.

A N. Y. lady and her young son had such an experience, and she writes others to know how to get relief. She writes: "For about fifteen months my little boy and myself had suffered with sour stomach. We were unable to retain much of anything we ate."

"After suffering in this way for so long I decided to consult a specialist in stomach diseases. Instead of prescribing drugs, he put us both on Grape-Nuts and we began to improve immediately."

"It was the key to a new life. I found we had been eating too much heavy food which we could not digest. In a few weeks after commencing Grape-Nuts, I was able to do my house work. I wake in the morning with a clear head and feel rested and have no sour stomach. My boy sleeps well and laughs with a laugh."

"We have regained our lost weight and continue to eat Grape-Nuts for both the morning and evening meals. We are well and happy and owe it to Grape-Nuts."

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salt to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary troubles.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salt from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with other salts, has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salt cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful after-dinner drink; water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Advertisement.

Mexican federal prison camp the first battalion of the 20th infantry—companies A, B, C, and D—guarded the prison camp with Col. Loughborough in command. A search of the prison camp Thursday resulted in the finding of only one revolver, the second one that has been taken from the camp by the guards during the past week. The firearms were smuggled in to the soldiers of the federal army by visitors from the city.

Sale of Ammunition Active.

The sale of ammunition continued Thursday until closing time for the stores and was resumed Friday. The stock of arms and ammunition is now almost exhausted. Many citizens were seen carrying rifles to their homes and many others carried carefully wrapped packages having the general outline of a reliable shotgun or ammunition.

An occasional deputy sheriff rode through the streets or appeared in the Mexican section during last night, with rifle, ammunition belt and six shots as his armament.

The announcement that the embargo was repealed at this port created favorable comment among citizens Thursday night as this was considered an excellent precautionary measure.

Ammunition Sales Ordered Stopped.

Ammunition sales in the Mexican second hand stores on South El Paso and South Stanton streets were stopped by the police Thursday afternoon. After the sale of ammunition and arms to irresponsible persons was stopped by the large ammunition houses, the second hand stores were notified to stop the sale of ammunition and rifles or be arrested. Prior to this order, confidence in the city.

Military Headquarters at City Hall.

Col. C. A. P. Hatfield, commanding the United States border patrol, established headquarters in the city hall during the night. A wireless tower on top of the city hall, a buzzer of the signal corps in the court house yard and direct telephone connections with the gas and electric plants, the fort and the infantry guard over the prisoners at Fort Bliss kept Col. Hatfield in complete touch with all points on the border and about the city.

Fifty extra policemen were put on duty by Mayor Kelly, selected from about 500 men who volunteered during Thursday for service. Extra men were kept on duty at the police station to respond as reserves in case of trouble.

Cars Stopped To Juarez.

As a precaution against disorder all traffic into Juarez was stopped by rebel authority last night. Even the street cars were prohibited from crossing after 9 o'clock.

Villa explained that as a precaution, stating that in the present strained conditions, the irresponsible acts of even a drunken man might have grave consequences. "It becomes those in authority on both sides of the river to take every precaution against such possibilities," explained the rebel leader.

Perishing to Command Here.

Battery B of the third artillery, will reach El Paso early Saturday morning from San Antonio; the sixth and 12th infantry regiments are expected to arrive over the Southern Pacific from San Francisco and Palo Alto, Cal. some time Saturday morning and the 16th infantry will arrive over the Santa Fe from the Presidio at San Francisco Saturday afternoon or evening.

Brig. Gen. John M. Pershing, commanding the eighth infantry brigade, will be in command of the brigade and after its arrival here, will assume command of the entire troops mobilized at Fort Bliss as senior commanding officer. Col. C. A. P. Hatfield will remain in temporary command of the second cavalry brigade, although Gen. Pershing has been mentioned as commander of this brigade to take Gen. Hugh L. Scott's place.

The eighth brigade, it is presumed, will go into camp on the fort reservation, at least for the present.

Battery B, which is coming to Fort Bliss, was at San Antonio at 11 o'clock Friday morning and is expected to arrive in El Paso by midnight.

A column of United States troops extends from the Mexican plant to Washington park, and the battery covers the city from its station on Sunset heights. A machine gun guards each of the four international bridges.

More Cavalry Here.

Three troops of the 12th cavalry arrived from Columbus, N. M., at 8:15 Thursday evening and took station on the border west of the viaduct. These three troops were E, F and G, of the 12th cavalry, and the battery covers the city from the Mexican plant and the Santa Fe stockyards.

From the Santa Fe stockyards, the third battalion of the 20th infantry patrolled along the river front through the city, including the American approaches to the international bridges. A machine gun was assigned to the detail guarding each approach to the bridge and adobe bricks were used to build a protecting wall for the machine gun operators. This battalion also guarded the gas plant and the electric light plant.

The second battalion of the 20th infantry took station at Ninth and Florence streets and the infantry was on duty at the southeastern part of the city. The second battalion includes companies E, F, G and H.

Controlling the Suburbs.

At Washington park and along the river in East El Paso the first squadron of the 12th cavalry—troops A, B, C and D—is stationed. The troops of this squadron were concentrated at the park from Athletic park and other points in the city, after the battalion of the 20th infantry took station at Ninth and Florence streets. The cavalry stationed at the park guarded the corner of the road and the country surrounding the park.

The first squadron of the 12th cavalry, including troops A, B, C and D, was camped on the Texas & Pacific reservation just south of the railroad roundhouse and within sight of the river. Some of the cavalry at Fort Bliss on the target range were ordered to join the squadron at once.

No Arms to Refugees Camp.

At Fort Bliss the second squadron of the 16th cavalry was in barracks. This squadron includes troops E, F, G and H and a machine gun platoon. At the they sold quantities of arms and ammunition. It is said.

One sporting goods store made a hurry up sale of all the guns and ammunition belts in stock. The guns and belts were purchased by Americans.

Douglas, Ariz., April 24.—Coming by special train from the mining camps and ranches of Nacozari, 257 refugees arrived here today.

The rebel authorities extended every courtesy. Members of the Sonora state government and 25 soldiers as a guard accompanied the train. On the way here numerous stops were made to pick up the foreign occupants of lonely ranches.
